IMAGINARY 2022

From August 31th to September 2nd,
3-day conference to discover innovations in math museums

MATRIX × IMAGINARY is an international conference on the future of mathematics engagement.

The 2022 edition was a great success!

MATRIX × IMAGINARY was back in 2022, hosted at the Institut Henri Poincaré. This sequel of the 2021 edition was still co-organised by MoMath, New York, and Imaginary, Berlin.

Innovations in maths museums, exhibitions, new formats, technologies, and inspiring ideas were presented during 3 days. From August 30th to September 2nd 2022 at IHP, with the participation of mathematicians and mathematical science communicators from all over the world, including Nicky Case, Tim Chartier, Olivier Druet & Olga Paris-Romaskevich.

Video replays

(Re)discover exciting presentations by maths outreach specialists from all over the world. All conference video replays are now online on IHP's YouTube channel and on the video platform carmin.tv.

Thanks again to all participants!
